Dear Parents,

We have had a very busy and productive first week back after the half-term break. Thank you to everyone who attended the parent-teacher meetings. These meetings provide a valuable opportunity to discuss your child's progress, review their work, and explore ways to support their learning at home. Our dedicated teachers have worked tirelessly, and I am sure you can appreciate that speaking with parents for several hours after a full morning of teaching is no small task!

World Book Day was a fantastic success, and it was wonderful to see so many children participating by dressing up as their favourite characters or coming to school in PJs. We hope families did not feel any pressure to purchase costumes, as pyjamas are always a fun and comfortable option. A selection of photos from the day is included for you to enjoy.

Class 8 had an exciting learning experience this week as they conducted a traffic survey as part of their geography and math studies. They practiced creating tally charts to support their understanding of counting in fives. Ebdon Lane proved to be a busy area, with traffic generated by the doctor's surgery, Peter Stracey, and, of course, our school.

On that note, we would like to remind all parents about the importance of safe and considerate parking. Unfortunately, we have recently been informed of another 'near miss' involving a child due to vehicles stopping illegally outside the school. For the safety of all our children, we kindly ask that parents park in designated areas and, when necessary, walk a little further to ensure a safer environment for everyone.

Next week is science week -we have visits from parents, Fulwell Juniors and Year 2 are visiting Monkwearmouth on Thursday. More news will follow...

Thank you for your continued support.

Best wishes,

Wendy Angus
